Luxurious ceramic single sink Chambord Clotaire 600 is manufactured by the prestigious German company Villeroy & Boch. This sink is perfect for a rustic kitchen and will also stand out in a modern kitchen. Ceramic modular sinks are becoming increasingly popular recently.

Chambord Clotaire 600 will look great not only in a modern kitchen, but also in kitchens in the so-called Provence style or Hugge style. With its simple appearance, it will fit into any environment. The sink gives off a luxurious and minimalistic impression.

The Clotaire kitchen sink features a main large chamber, where you can comfortably wash dishes of larger dimensions, such as baking trays. Chambord Clotaire 600 belongs to the category of modular sinks. This means that they are not firmly connected to the countertop. They are mounted directly on the installation cabinet, and the countertop is either attached from both sides, or the countertop overlaps the edges of the sink from above. Modular sinks are preferably recommended for installation with countertops made of non-absorbent material. If a solid wood countertop is to be used, care must be taken to properly impregnate the edges of the cutouts in the countertop.

Chambord ceramic sinks are distinguished by their luxurious design and high quality craftsmanship. The main advantages of ceramics include high resistance to impact, scratch resistance, high temperature resistance, hygienic safety, and color stability. Dirt and dyes do not adhere to the surface. Ceramic sinks require very little maintenance. If you are looking for a white sink, choose ceramics.
