This beautiful sink Thibert 895.0 with a spacious basin from the French manufacturer Chambord is a new model that stands out with its impressive appearance and elegance. In the production of this type of sink, they combine tradition and design. The sink is a guarantee of quality because it is made to withstand the test of time.

The exclusive, elegant, and unusual appearance of the sink will catch your eye at first sight. The sink fits perfectly not only in a classic English kitchen but also in a Provence-style kitchen. The sink features a visible front and an extended rear edge. Modern design with a slight hint of the past.

Modular sinks are making a comeback in the world of kitchens, just like rustic style. A modular sink is installed directly onto a cabinet. The installation of the sink is mainly recommended for non-absorbent material countertops. In the case of a stone countertop, the sink is installed underneath it, while in the case of a wooden countertop, we recommend the sink slightly protruding above the countertop to prevent contact with water.

The Thibert 895.0 granite sink is made of 85% quartz, which gives the sink a very natural appearance and provides maximum quality and durability. The main advantages include excellent resistance to impact, scratching, and high temperatures. You will certainly appreciate the very easy maintenance of the sink.
