The elegant ceramic sink Deante Lusitano 860.0 from the well-known Polish sink manufacturer Deante features a spacious basin and a drainer. Deante has been on the market for over 30 years and represents a guarantee of quality. Deante brand products are called ProEco, which means they use natural materials such as ceramic and eco-friendly packaging.

With its elegant appearance, the Lusitano 860.0 sink is a perfect choice for kitchens in classic, provencal, or rustic style, where light colors and wood dominate. The smooth white surface of the ceramic perfectly harmonizes with the glossy surface of the stone countertops.

The ceramic single-bowl sink Lusitano 860.0 features a large and practical drainer. You will appreciate it if you cook a lot and do not have a dishwasher. The sink with a depth of 21 cm provides sufficient space for comfortable washing of large pots and pans.

The sink has two holes drilled, see product photo. The hole that will not be used can be sealed with a plug, which is included in the sink accessories, see photo. This plug is inserted into the hole and tightened from below. There is no risk of any leakage.

The advantage of ceramic sinks is their easy use. The sink is easy to clean, resistant to dirt, and does not retain odors. Due to the non-porous material, no dirt is retained on the surface, so it remains like new even after years of use.
