The brand Granisil represents a mark of high quality and luxurious design. Granisil sinks contain over 80% granite and quartz. Thanks to the presence of natural stone, it is a very durable material. Granisil is completely safe for contact with food.

If you are looking for a corner sink that is not only practical but also beautiful, the Zamora 910.10R sink will be the right one. The sink will pleasantly surprise you with its practicality and beautiful shape. The smooth surface of the sink will easily blend in with any kitchen decor.

The Zamora 910.10R kitchen sink features a spacious main basin where you can comfortably wash large pots and baking trays. On the left side, there is a second smaller basin that can be used, for example, for rinsing fruits and vegetables, defrosting meat, etc. On the right side of the sink, there is a smaller draining area. You will thus make the most of the corner space in your kitchen.

The Zamora 910.10R granite sink is designed for top-mount installation, into a cabinet of 70 cm width / corner 85 x 85 cm. It has a warranty for maximum durability thanks to a special blend of granite plusR - resistant to scratching and staining. The Granisil brand is known for its resistance to rapid temperature changes (-18 to +280 degrees).

The advantage of granite sinks is their unconventional design, practical qualities, easy maintenance, and color variability. Thus, the possibility to match them with the rest of the kitchen. The surface of the sink is homogeneous and smooth - therefore, the sink is easily kept clean.
